Ask HN: Would you pay for a cloud based photo editor? - r/mason I know there are several of these service out there, Picassa, Lightroom, and what not. The problem is I don't see them switching to this cloud based editor, as I did not see a big market for this. Is there a big market for something like this? Seems like the perfect crowd source editing tool for photos and art, and I'm willing to bet it would make a good crowd sourced drawing app as
