- Players vary the direction of their passes, dribbles and runs more dynamically, based on all in-game actions.
- Tactical Defending - Players use intuitive, attacking and defensive tactics using the same AI systems and physics engine as the players.
- Players use intuitive, attacking and defensive tactics using the same AI systems and physics engine as the players.
- New Player Actions - Players show a larger range of offensive and defensive skills than ever before, such as the ability to shoot more accurately, receive through dribbling and playing the ball backwards. With the help of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and the brand new, revolutionary 22Player animation model, players react to the actions of opponents, make smarter decisions and predict movement paths. Additional Features FIFA 18's gameplay featured many of the award-winning innovations, including a number of new gameplay features in each skill area, including passing, tackling, heading, shooting, dribbling, pressing, pressing transitions, and off-ball movement, as well as a major overhaul of all in-game artificial intelligence (AI) systems. FIFA 21 will build on this foundation with a total overhaul of FIFA's artificial intelligence (AI), real-life feel and physics, tactical play, and presentation. Furthermore, a number of new and improved features and gameplay mechanics will be introduced to provide a richer and more diverse gameplay experience, including the reimagined man-to-man marking system and a brand new stadium design.
